Prototypes

a.

The overall purpose of this page is to let users understand both the details and a summary of the products in their cart clearly. Therefore I allocate the left panel to show the more detailed description of the products and the right to show a summary of products and total price. I also added a "Update" button to let the user update the color/filling/quantity of each kind of products.

This is very similar to the Lo-Fi prototype and with the same kind of ideas, but with a higher fidelity.
